Developers must now contribute to city funds

FRANKFORT — Concurring with the recommendation of the plan commission and the zoning board of appeals, the Village Board of Trustees at its meeting Monday night voted to adopt an ordinance under which the schools, the park district and the library would receive contributions from developers before building permits are issued.

All three bodies are to be incorporated in the same ordinance, with a provision that if any part of the measure is found to be invalid it shall have no effect on the other portions. This is a standard clause that is found in practically all ordinances and statutes.

The Lincoln-Way High School and the underlying grade school districts were the originators of the ordinance in this area, with the aid of a firm of school consultants, as a means to overcome the tax lag. It was pointed out that between the time a new home is completed it is 13 to 24 months before any tax revenue is derived.

Meanwhile, if there are children of school age in that home the schools must provide for them. To make up for this loss the schools are asking either cash contributions or land from builders. A formula has been worked out covering the contributions.

The villages of New Lenox, Manhattan and Mokena passes such ordinances weeks or months ago. The school ordinances cover vacant lots in villages as well as new subdivisions and the Frankfort ordinance will also include that provision, and for the Frankfort Public Library also. The library is asking a straight $15 per living unit.

At the Monday night meeting, James Gluntz, of the Frankfort Park Board, said that its members are more interested in land than cash and indicated that it would prefer to work directly with the developers of new subdivisions and were not interested in vacant lots that may be in the village.

Mayor Glenn Warning pointed out that the village has always worked with the park board when developers came with plans for a new addition, and asked for some five percent of the land be reserved for public purposes for the benefit of the parks.

Gluntz indicated the park district would like a contribution of five acres for each 1,000 density in a new subdivision. The ordinance was reviewed by the plan commission and the village zoning board of appeals and recommended for passage, with the inclusion of aid for the library and the Frankfort Park District. A motion was made to have such an ordinance drafted for passage and the motion was seconded and the council ready to vote when Attorney Albert H. Krusemark asked to be heard in behalf of a subdivider that was considering a development in the Frankfort area.

Mayor Warning said that the subject has been discussed considerably in the past several weeks and that now the village board was ready to vote on a motion. If Attorney Krusemark wished to speak on the subject later he could but the council was going to vote first.

Krusemark replied that it would be of little use to speak after the vote was taken. The council then voted to have the original school ordinance amended to include the library and park district.

Receive complaints

Grader fixing street

NEW LENOX — As a result of complaints aired at last Wednesday's meeting of the New Lenox village board, contractors at work on the Levitt & Sons housing development were busy road-mending Tuesday morning.

According to John Lektorich, business administrator for the village, work crews had a grader going at 8 a.m. Thursday to begin transforming Have Avenue West of the cemetery from a roller coaster, with a privy in the middle of the road, into a passable thoroughfare again.

Mrs. Gene Gear told the village board that with the weather that has prevailed, plus the damage done by excavations and heavy loads, the street had become as slick as a sheet of ice and a driver had to have luck as well as skill to negotiate the humps and hollows.

Robert Randolph, a former village trustee, was also on hand to protest against the condition of the road.

Trustee James Warning, mayor pro tem, speaking for the other board members said something would be done to correct conditions and the work has been started.

Levitt & Sons is developing a 90-acre tract south and west of the Lincoln-Way Shopping Center. It is planning condominiums, townhouses, apartments and some single family homes.

Now it is understood, National Builders has plans for acreage adjacent to the Levitt developments and Trustee Lutz M. Guenther expressed his doubts about whether this is the proper time to consider such a matter.

The sewage treatment plant, recently enlarged, will take care of the Levitt development, it was said, but if National Builders went ahead with its plans there is a strong probability that the treatment plant would have to be enlarged again. It's capacity now is a population of 7,500. There has been talk that National Builders might build an addition to the treatment plant. But so far the whole thing has just been talk and no formal action taken. Supt. Arnold J. Tyler, head of the New Lenox public school system, was at the meeting to inquire as to the requirements for getting sewer and water to the 51 acre site Dist. 122 has on Illinois Highway, half a mile east of Cedar Road.

The school district will have to put in the lines from the site to the village mains at Cedar and Illinois Highway but Supt. Tyler pointed out that first the board must have some plans and figures to go on and at Wednesday's meeting

John Djerf, of the engineering firm of Robert E. Hamilton Associates, village engineers, was instructed to proceed with such a study. The school site is large enough for two buildings. Plans call for construction of an intermediate school first—4th, 5th and 6th grades—and later a junior high. The schools would add approximately 800 to the population load at the sewage plant. When the Levitt development is completed—which may be several years—there would be another 3,000 to be served by the plant. There are several developments in the area that plan their own sewage treatment plants but how far governmental agencies will countenance such plans in a question that hasn't been answered yet, it was pointed out.

Tomorrow night (Thursday) the village board is to hold a special session to adopt a new subdivision ordinance. It will cover the "whole ball of wax," a village spokesman said, "from zoning to density, sidewalks, street widths and how they are to be constructed. At the meeting last Wednesday the council adopted the BOCA code as the building code for New Lenox, which puts it in line with Frankfort and Mokena.

An ordinance authorizing issuance of $120,000 of revenue bonds was adopted by the council. The money is needed to finance the iron removal plant that is being installed as part of the new water system. The iron content of the New Lenox water is quite high and householders have made many complaints. The new plant is progressing satisfactorily, according to John Djerf, and when completed laundry should be free of rust spots, it was said.

School fails by three votes

ARBURY HILLS — With the Lincoln Estates area polling a thumping "No" vote, plus some help from residents of Arbury Hills and Frankfort Square, the referendum which would have allowed the use of state funds to build a junior high school was beaten by three votes, 278 to 275.

In Precinct 1, made up of Arbury Hills and Frankfort Square the vote was:

Yes... 234

No... 114

In Precinct 2, made up of the Lincoln Estates area the vote was:

Yes... 41

No... 164

The total "Yes" vote was 275, the total "No" vote was 278. The proposal before the people was whether the school board of District 161 was to get a junior high school built out of state funds. The amount involved was $660,000.

The money would have been paid back to the state like rent, over a period of 16-23 years, with no interest charge. The sum was sufficient, according to a board spokesman, to have built a 10-room school for the upper grades.

A primary school is being built in Frankfort Square and when it is completed children now attending classes at Ann Rutledge, in Lincoln Estates, will go to their home school. The proposed new junior high also would have been built on 80th Avenue, west of Frankfort Square on a 17 acre site that Hoffman-Rosener, the developers, were giving the district.

Prior to the election the board was informed that if the referendum failed the districts would go to the bottom of the list of projects on the state building commission agenda.

The board will meet tonight (Nov. 8) to canvass the returns of the referendum.

A new member, Ronald Bechtel, of Frankfort Square, will be sworn in at this session to fill a vacancy on the board. There were seven candidates considered for the appointment, it was said. Bechtel will serve until next April. If he continued after that it will have to be by election.

Prestwick rate raise hearing continues

CHICAGO — The second hearing on Prestwick Utilities request for a 40 per cent increase in the rates charged for water and sewer service to Prestwick and Frankfort Square residents was held Wednesday, Nov. 1 in the offices of the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) in Chicago.

The ICC acknowledged the petition of Frankfort Square for leave to intervene and the appearance of William J. Flynn, a Prestwick resident, as their attorney.

Also there were in attendance David Wilson, President of the Frankfort Square Homeowners Association, and Fred Bianucci, of Chicago, as attorney for the Prestwick Homeowners Association.

The utility presented additional exhibits that were requested by the ICC staff to clarify ambiguities in previous utility exhibits. The utility then concluded their presentations in support of their petition for an increase. Under the ICC and their staff engineer, Patric O'Brien, treasurer of Prestwick Utilities, admitted to the presence of many errors and miscalculations in the exhibits and statements presented by the utility in support of its request for the increase in rates. The staff also advised the utility to re-consider its request for a late payment charge of 5 per cent in the light of much pending litigation on the point and the possibility that such a late rate charge might be considered unsupportable. cross examination by the staff auditor of

The staff then requested additional exhibits of the utility at the next hearing.

Flynn, attorney for Frankfort Square, questioned O'Brien about the excessive and abnormal ratio of debt to investment appearing in the statements submitted by Prestwick Utility. Flynn then questioned why the utility should be permitted a rate increase when there was only a nominal investment of risk capital by the owners of the utility. This resulted in overburdening of the operations of the system with unnecessary interest charges.

When questioned by the HERALD, Flynn said he was pointing out that the Utilities request for a 40 per cent rate increase to obtain a fair return on invested capital was without foundation since the owners of the utility had only invested $1000 of their own money in the Prestwick Utility Co.

The hearing was continued until Nov. 21 in the offices of the ICC at 120 South La Salle St. in Chicago. The hearing will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Village delays permits

OAK FOREST — Oak Forest Planning Commission tabled future decisions on sanitary sewer hook-ups along 151st Street until a study of the sewer has been completed by City Engineer Micheal Cozzo.

Cozzo, who was present at the Nov. 2 meeting, told the commission he wasn't sure if the sewer could withstand additional use. He said a study, which would take from two to four weeks, would determine the exact amount of extra load, if any, the sewer could take.

"During wet periods when there has been record-high rainfall," Cozzo said, "storm waters have been leaking into the sewer." The extra water was causing a strain on the sewer, he said.

On Cozzo's recommendation, the commission tabled proposals presented to it by two residents along 151st Street requesting property rezoning to enable them to hook into the sewer.

The two separate proposals were made by Raymond Baker, of Oak Forest who owns property at 5159 W. 151st Street, and Thomas Callahan, of Oak Lawn, who owns property at 15100 S. LaPorte.

The commission also agreed to table any future proposals for sewer hook-up along 151st Street until the result of Cozzo's study is known. Cozzo suggested the study be undertaken so the commission would have the facts to decide the future of land developments along 151st Street.

Cozzo said if the study reveals the pipe in need of repair - but not replacement - then he said he felt appropriations would be easily obtained from the city. He was uncertain if immediate action would be taken if the pipe had to be replaced.

Cozzo stated he felt the problem with the sewer was not in size, but the infiltration of storm water during heavy rains.

The commission also recommended rezoning of two lots 50 feet by 120 feet each located at 158th and La Vergne, belonging to William Elliott. The commission passed the recommendation along to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Maycliff residents criticize entrance

ORLAND PARK — Maycliff subdivision, or is it Silver Lake Estates, is with and without a country club entrance and could be entirely without such an entrance if the desires of several Maycliff homeowners are followed up.

The village officials are now requiring that each such subdivision has a "country club" entrance. Cliff Mehling, developer of the 10-year-old residential development on 143rd Street at the east edge of Orland Park, had such an entrance designed and after months of delay the entrance, at 87th Avenue, was partially constructed late this summer.

Now, the homeowners are not so sure they like the idea; and what about 85th Avenue? Why no "country club" entrance there, some of the property owners are questioning.

Dowdy, who had served the new group as chairman during its formative meetings, questioned if the residents wanted to continue "Maycliff" as the name of the subdivision or revert to the official name of "Silver Lake Estates". "Maycliff" was given the unanimous verbal approval.

The group approved the by-laws of the new 122-member organization with two amendments. Only 15 percent (18) of the members need to be present to constitute a quorum instead of the 25 percent (30) as presented in the original by-laws. There were 22 residences represented Wednesday night.

Also, the property owners approved an amendment stating that a legal petition could be used to call a general meeting as well as the president or a majority vote of the executive council.

Dowdy informed the group that the Villa West subdivision has hired Atty. John Daley, a relative of Chicago's Richard Daley, to represent the Villa West group's efforts to stop the R-5 rezoning request of 80 acres southeast of Villa West and across 143rd Street from Maycliff.

The Maycliff Home Owners Association is being represented by Atty. Ken Fricker in fighting the multi-unit development proposed by Hillcrest Builders.

Dowdy urged his neighbors to "keep writing letters to the papers" and chairman of the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals, voicing opposition to the planned unit development. He also urged all area residents to turn out for the Monday, Nov. 20, Appeals Board meeting to be held at the Park Lane administration center.

In a final matter Vice President Ward requested that the village officials be urged to adopt an ordinance controlling solicitors entering the village. Harrison Smith volunteered to serve as a committee of one to check the status of such an ordinance and if an ordinance exists to work with the villate in having the ordinance enforced.

When one homeowner stood up and asked, "How many others dislike the new entrance as much as we do?", he was greeted with a general appreciative groan. It was the opinion of those in attendance that the new construction was dangerous and would prevent any parking on either side of the street at that point.

President Mehling said he thought his father would "not be interested in tearing out" the partially completed project. Mehling pointed out that the planter in the middle of the entrance would be landscaped, probably next spring, and that a sign, which also has been approved by the village officials, was to be installed in the center planter.

The sign idea also met with general disapproval of the sparse crowd of Maycliff property owners. It was decided that Robert Dowdy and Ralph Caron would serve as a committee of two to visit with the village about the entire project with the instructions from the group to remove the planter.

The homeowners did voice approval of the recent cleaning of the open drainage ditch along 143rd Street and the removal of the foliage obstacles at the 87th Avenue and 143rd Street intersection. This visibility barrier had been a complaint of the Maycliff residents for the past two years.

When questioned about door-to-door mail delivery for the subdivision, President Mehling said Fairway Improvement Association had investigated this possibility and had some information. He volunteered to contact Mrs. Nancy Sims of the FIA for additional data.

Tekton regains permits

WESTHAVEN — Westhaven Village Officials on October 26 agreed to issue to the Tekton Corp. its previously requested building permits.

Representatives of Tekton recently appealed to the village board for a total of 20 permits, which would allow new construction to begin in both north and south Westhaven. Half that number had been purchased by the builders in early 1970; when those expired, ten more were reissued. (Building codes and regulations within Westhaven allow for expiration of permits one year from date they are issued.)

months ago; his position has not yet been filled.

When Saturday's regular meeting was deferred for lack of a quorum (only two of six board members were present, thus official business could not transpire) it was learned that Mrs. Diane Bartholmey has taken up residence outside of the village of Westhaven. As a result, she is automatically disqualified from being a member of the board.

It was also learned at that time, though it was not officially presented, that Trustee William Pressler also has tendered his resignation, citing "change of address" (outside the village) as his reason.

With the approval of Mayor Curtis Whitaker and village trustees, Tekton was allotted ten building permits at $30 each, approximately one-fifth the usual cost. According to the Mayor, these ten were technically reissued to Tekton.

The Westhaven Village Board is bracing for additional problems expected with vacancies left by two more resigning board members. Trustee Gerald Devere left the board several

Toot, toot, Tootsie

TINLEY PARK — Mayor Jack Dunn met with Grand Knight Ed Godette, Tootsie Roll Co-Chairman Frank Dudiak, and Frank Herzer recently to proclaim the Tootsie Roll Candy Days for the Mentally Retarded Children.

This is a yearly drive sponsored by the Knights of Columbus. Tootsie Roll Candy Day for the Mentally Retarded will be held on Nov. 10 & 11.

Last year, the Fr. C.C. Boyle Council collected $2600.00 for the Mentally Retarded and the money was used to buy Equipment for various schools of the Southwest CO-OP, Tinley Park State Hospital Special Education, Happy Day School and to the Olympics for the Mentally Retarded Children.

Fr. C. C. Boyle's goal this year is $3000. They hope to get public support as in the past.

Westhaven Jaycees widen membership

WESTHAVEN — The Westhaven Jaycees last week sponsored a fund-raising demonstration of Playhouse Toys at the Orland Chateau, 145th and LaGrange Road.

The display, presented by Mrs. John Shimkus, included 206 items, among them educational, activity and imitative toys; books; games; crafts; musical toys; Christmas gifts and decorations. Prices ranged from $1.00 to $15.00 per item. Total sales at the party were estimated at over $300.

Organizations such as Jaycees choose one of three ways in which to realize the profits from Playhouse Toys Demonstrations. Options include S & H Green Stamps, free toys, or 12 per cent of total sales in cash. Westhaven Jaycees will apply the cash profit, approximately $36, to the group's general funds, which ultimately will help defray the cost of community projects, such as the upcoming Christmas Program.

This year the Christmas Program will include treating children from an orphanage to a commercial show, "The Wonderful World of Santa Claus," on Dec. 16. This project, according to State Director Ken McCrackin, is being planned with a $600 budget.

Chairman of the Toys for Christmas demonstration was Robert Multon.

The Westhaven Jaycees also plan a mid-November membership drive, under the direction of John Shimkus, internal vice-president in charge of membership. Rainbow Valley, Arbury Hills and Mokena will be canvassed in the door-to-door drive, Shimkus said, in an effort to interest residents of these areas in Jaycees' activities.

To be eligible for membership, a man must be between the ages of 18 and 35 years; of good character and be willing to work for the Jaycees. Applicants are "sponsored" by a member of the organization, and must be accepted by the vote of the entire membership before official installation in Jaycees.

POW sponsors seminar

By GERTRUDE GALLAGHER
ORLAND PARK — Three eminent urban planners told a group of municipal officials they should have faith in a Planned Unit Developer and not restrict him too closely.

A seminar sponsored by the Palos-Orland-Worth (POW) Council on Wednesday, Nov. 1, presented William S. Lawrence, city planner with William S. Lawrence and Associates and consultant to the Village of Orland Park, Thomas J. Klutznick, president of Urban Investment and Development Corp., developers of the huge shopping center in Orland Park, and Zay Smith, director of POW and architect-planner with Zay Smith and Associates.

Referring to municipal decisions in allowing the building of PUD Lawrence said, "The basic concept would be one of board consideration. The PUD is the best vehicle for creating innovations in a community. It is a process whereby the community, the Planning Commission and the developer are working in concert to create a whole composition. The administration is the conductor."

Lawrence added that a community should decide its basic philosophy as to what it wants to be, and then allow the Planning Commission and developer to work out the details. "Write your ordinance so you have the basics. Don't be too specific. Determine your goals and standards."

Klutznick said, "There is a tremendous diversity of expression available when dealing with a PUD zoning. It permits a public body to insert itself into the pre-planning." He added the PUD is the most restrictive type of zoning in so far as it requires action within a stated time from the builder.

Contending it was up to the municipality as to what it would permit or not, Klutznick cautioned, "It is the concomitant responsibility on the part of the administration to put in time to make the PUD work."

According to the urban developer a density of 25 units per acre in a PUD can provide better design and open space than four single family units per acre. "The pre-qualifications of the developer are a necessity or misunderstanding can be rampant."

Zay Smith said POW influences 350 square miles to the southwest of Chicago. "Our purpose is to keep this from going down the drain of urban sprawl."

The POW Director said the first thing a planner considers is "What is the philosophy of the client." He added, "Tell us what you want achieved, but don't tell us how to do it." One of Smith's current clients is unusual in the PUD field in that it is the Peace Memorial Church which plans a PUD at 104th Avenue and 131st Street.

During questioning the planners seemed to feel that, on the basis of incomplete studies, a PUD is not divisive in a community. Its tenants are concerned with problems outside its internal self contained unit in the same proportion as any cross section of people would be.

Moderator Melvin Doogan, village president of Orland Park referred to the Orland Shopping Center PUD as a "plum". But he added, "If you don't have the right plan, the right developer, I believe a PUD is bad for a community. Orland Park is for PUD's; but we don't want a lot of them."

The next session, which will be concerned with solid waste proposals, will be held Wednesday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at Palos Country Club. Walter Kerstra, mayor of Worth will moderate.

Board okays judges

ORLAND PARK — The Student Court, a system by which students are judged by their peers, has been approved by the Board of Education of District 230 and full administration support has been given the concept.

Paul Clyne, a representative of the Sandburg Student Council who appeared before the board seeking to extend the court's existence, was asked to return on the last meeting in November to report on its progress.

The Student Court at Carl Sandburg high school which was first instituted last year is now operational with a court of six justices. Jeff Pierson is temporary chief justice.

The main purpose of the court as proposed and operated by the justices, according to the Student Council, is to give the students a judiciary board. A student against whom charges have been made must report to the deans, but will have the option of trial by court.

According to one of the originators of the court, Cindy McKown, "this gives the students a choice of whether or not he wants to be judged by his peers."

A full court will consist of 13 justices, but only six will serve at a time on a rotating basis. They will have a chief justice, and a secretary whose duties shall consist of keeping records of the court, reading the particulars of the specific case before the court, and scheduling cases.

The court will decide if the student is guilty or innocent of the charges. If found guilty, the court will make a decision as to the appropriate action.

Another contest winner

SOUTHWEST — As the football season comes down to the wire in the southwest suburbs another community was represented in the winners' circle in Crescent Newspapers' sixth weekly football contest last weekend.

William Swick, 19539 S. Sycamore, Mokena, captured the $25.00 first place money in the eight-week contest. Swick is the first winner from the Mokena area.

James Cain, 15257 Hiawatha Trail, Orland Park, was a repeat winner, taking the second place $10.00 cash and for the first time two predictors tied for the third place money of $5.

Pepper Pettit, 17121 S. Ozark Ave., Tinley Park, and David Bogusz, 6859 W. 175th Place, Tinley Park each selected 15 out of 20 possible winners and on the tie breaker they both picked a 34-0 score.

Police position sought

OAK FOREST — City Manager Ron Feldner is still looking for a replacement for resigning Police Chief Gerald Stevenson. He expects to wait "several weeks" for applications to come in so that "the best person can be found for the job," he said.

Feldner has received several applications for the position from the Oak Forest police Department. He has been looking in the Northern Illinois area for someone in a position that is similar to the chief's. He also advertised the job in a national police magazine. "I'm talking with anyone interested," he said.

Chief Stevenson resigned last week to teach at the Police Training Institute of the University of Illinois' northern campus at Lisle. He has been chief of police at Oak Forest since May 1970.

Stevenson has taught previously at the Institute as a guest lecturer since 1966. As a full-time instructor, he will draw on his 18 years in police work to teach patrol techniques, communications, crowd control and public relations. He will be teaching both recruits and experienced officers in three levels: basic, specialized and supervisory.

Chief Stevenson's resignation takes effect on Nov. 15.

Paper drive next week

ORLAND PARK — A truck will be available this weekend, Nov. 10-13, at the Cooper Furniture Co., 147th Street and LaGrange Road, to collect newspapers, thin cardboard, magazines, catalogs and telephone books.

The paper drive is a monthly effort of the Orland Park Junior Women's Club to collect papers and thus reduce the waste material in the village.

The truck will be available from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The drive is held each second weekend. Glass also may be deposited every day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Cooper Furniture parking lot. Special bins are being furnished in which the glass will be deposited. Metal rings are to be removed from glass bottles.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

Your knowledgeable reporting on our schools is a welcome and appreciated service. As residents of School District No. 140, and particularly as school board members, we are fully aware of the service newspapers circulating in the area can perform to keep a community abreast of school news.

We want to thank you for the excellent coverage you have given us in general in the Tinley Park Herald and especially for your cooperation with respect to the referendum which was called for Oct. 14, 1972—and which, we are now pleased to advise you, passed by a good margin.

Thank you again.

Sincerely,
David A. Liedtke,

Editor:

Congratulations on the recognition given your newspaper in the Illinois Press Association's Awards Program in Springfield recently.

As the largest and most prestigious newspaper awards contest in the nation, your being judged a winner speaks highly of your staff and the quality of your publication.

The recognition granted you should be reassuring to your subscribers, who really have no other exact way to judge the newspaper they often take for granted. The professional appraisal of the judges tells your subscribers that they are served by a newspaper of excellence.

Now your readers can reaffirm what you and I already know...that you continually strive to present fair and impartial reports of events that are changing this world in which we live.

All of this will not eliminate the fact that editors and publishers must continually weave through a wide variety of outside pressures...pressures that would dictate news and editorial content. The amazing thing is that so many newspapers not only withstand these assaults on their integrity and responsibility, but continue to maintain news coverage objectivity and editorial independence.

We say all this sincerely through knowledge gained by at least five of us on the staff of the Association of Illinois Electric Cooperatives during prior years spent working on weekly and daily newspapers.

To you, your staff and subscribers, congratulations on the public acknowledgement of your professionalism. Warm regards to all from Don Hecke, John Temple and all of us associated with the Electric Cooperatives of Illinois.

Sincerely,

Kaufman and Broad

Attempt a new image

Kaufman and Broad Home Builders is trying to create a needed new image. The new slate of firm representatives is the first to admit this needed change and Tinley Park village officials dealing with the firm are in complete accord.

Kaufman and Broad has been attempting annexation of approximately 210 acres west of 84th Avenue and south of 159th Street. Proposals first presented to Tinley Park officials about two years ago by K and B were eventually "thrown out" of consideration by the officials due to constant changes in proposals which were in opposition to the village building code.

Village officials from Tinley Park were recently invited to view K and B's model homes in Woodgate, Interstate 57 and Vollmer Road, Matteson.

The developer recently had all building permits withheld for another Matteson development after receiving endless complaints from homeowners.

The building firm has been the recipient of adverse publicity tantamount to Illinois' "shoe box" scandal on a size 15, D width, scale.

The model homes in Woodgate will not meet building requirements in Tinley Park - not because of construction, but in regard to overall size. Huge signs heralding the fact that Woodgate is a K and B development are almost non-existent. However, signs clearly stressing "optionals" in the homes are quite evident in each model.

The proposed preliminary plans for the Tinley Cherry Hill Farms development were readily available for perusal by village officials. Answers to questions from firm representatives seemed straight and not too overly polished for professional businessmen. Comments on the models from viewers were accepted and at times noted down in a small book. Other comments were acceptably explained with reasonable logic. The representatives' approaches were of watchfulness and care but lacking in the usual condescending attitude - an encouraging note.

The structure of the homes must be viewed from the experienced eyes of qualified village officials who seemed to agree that "for the money, the product looks good."

The homes proposed for Cherry Hill Farms will be more expensive than existing homes in various other area K and B projects; Fine. Tinley Park has expressed a desire to upgrade land within village limits. The theory being that the more expensive the home, the better the construction - hopefully.

If K and B is allowed to annex to Tinley Park, and this means months of meetings, village officials and building department personnel will no doubt spend considerable time on their toes observing every piece of lumber, building materials, etc., that is used in the building project.

If things proceed smoothly between K and B and the village, with minimal complaints from homeowners, it could be a first for the building developer.

K and B should be aware of the ability and willingness of the village officials to call a halt to any misrepresentation on the part of the builder. Present officials have a watchful eye and are not about to pass over anything just to keep the boat on a straight run.

K and B will have a rough time building within the village limits of Tinley Park. Tinley Park also could have a rough time, unless K and B is seriously intent on creating a new image. If that is the case, Tinley Park could be just the location for putting their "new image" into practice.

City government

Inter-agency efforts needed

Cooperation between governmental bodies was evident at the last Tinley Park Village board meeting when Trustee Richard Durkin reported agreements reached between the village and School District 146.

Both governmental bodies work within budgets not always allowing for necessary improvements. In this case, the school district lacks proper sidewalks, flood corrections, parking facilities and monies for street repairs.

The village needs property for a water reservoir site, and the school district has land available through a village implemented program of developers' land donations to school districts.

The village has been running into obstacles in locating a proper site for the 5 million gallon reservoir. Various sites were deemed unsatisfactory due to engineering difficulties.

School districts cannot sell property except through auction.

The village and the school district has worked out a solution acceptable to both governing bodies. The solution was accepted by both boards on a unanimous basis.

The school district will receive sidewalks at Memorial and Sandidge Schools; water drainage problems will be corrected; the parking lot and flood problem will be taken care of at Fulton School and a drain installed for the School District office building on Oak Park Ave., in addition to correctional problems at Central Junior High School.

The village will receive a long term lease for property near 167th Street for construction of an acceptable water reservoir tank and pumping facilities.

Both governmental bodies have gained in their fields and tax payers have gained through the integrity of officials in obtaining the best solutions to overall problems.

On second thought

Veterans Day means something special

By GLENN LOGAN

Saturday, Nov. 11, is still Veterans Day—Armistice Day, for Veterans of World War I—in Illinois and most of the servicemen's organizations are planning parades or celebrations of some sort.

Why Oct. 23 was ever designated as Veterans Day by the Monday holiday group is something your correspondent can't answer. If any explanation was made at the time, it has escaped me, but I do remember that first Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1918.

Rumors had been flying for weeks that the end of the war was near but no one paid any attention then. All armies are full of rumors,—"latrine rumors" was the usual description given them. I don't know what the navy called them—"head rumors," I suppose.

All very authentic, you know. Maybe a KP would retail a sure thing that he had from the cook, who got it from mess sergeant, who got it from the lieutenant, who heard it from the captain whose orderly had passed on what he had gotten from the colonel's orderly.

Or maybe a sergeant got it from the company clerk who had been talking with a clerk at headquarters—where the generals are.

That stuff as ribbed to a headquarters clerk was pretty potent, what with all those general officers around. Not that I ever heard of nor did I ever see a general hobnobbing with a headquarters clerk but you can understand that there could be such a thing or maybe a clerk might have big ears.

Anyway those end of war rumors used to fly around a lot and sometimes some American would tell a French civilian about it. The French are polite but also very practical. They used to look interested when someone told them the war was about "fini" but they never got excited. The French have been embroiled in wars for centuries so just imagine all the rumors they must have heard that remained rumors.

So on the night of Nov. 10 we had been halted in a village near a base of American fighter planes. Someone said that our division was heading for Metz to open an offensive there. I never found out whether that was sure enough or another rumor. Anyway, here we were, billeted snugly in the barn section of a house and a poker game going.

Maybe half an hour later someone pushed open the door, letting in a rush of cold night air.

"Hey, you guys, an armistice has been signed!" "Shut the door," one of the players resounded, "You let the cold in."

Ten minutes later the door opened again.

"Hey, fellah, the war's over."

"Shut that blank-blank door, and get out," said another player, "War's over," he snorted, "that latrine stuff sure gets circulation."

After three more door openings with gusts of air and reports the war was over, one of the kibbitzers went to the door that the last rumormonger had neglected to close.

"Hey, guys," he called, "I don't know if the war's over but there's something going on. All the French are out in the street, jumping up and down and hollering."

If the French people were out in the street shouting, that could mean something. And these were happy shouts. But the clincher was the action at the plane base. The field was lit up with flares, planes were taking off and flying in circles, with pilots firing machine guns and bery pistols, with those bursts of light that change night into day. We couldn't believe that all of the air guys were equally drunk or that collectively they had gone nuts. Certainly, all that noise, and all that light was no way to sneak up on the Kaiser and it certainly would draw Jerry. We listened for a while but never picked up that double-drone sound that was Jerry's trademark, so we said maybe it was true that the war had ended.

Finally the top sergeant came by and said that we were rolling on at daybreak but were to halt wherever we were at 11 a.m. because that was the time for a cease fire order to become effective and an armistice would be in effect.

I don't remember the name of the village where we halted at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11, 1918, but the beer was scarce so we had to make do with the wine.

That afternoon the women in the village—like so many of the French villages then the only men to be found there were the old — started a house to house collection to buy candles for the TeDeum - a thanksgiving service - that was to be celebrated in the village church the next morning. When the Americans found out what they were doing they began tossing in the folding money, and if they used it only to keep the church in candles, there must still be some of it left.

Everyone went to the service the next morning. Naturally, all couldn't get into the church but the collection baskets were brought out to the crowd outdoors, by a couple of tough looking sergeants. After the thanksgiving for the end of the war the pastor offered a special thanks to the Americans for the collection.

That Oct. 23 doesn't mean a thing to me but Nov. 11 brings back memories. After hearing guns rumble for so long that silence was a strange thing.

So you folks are up in arms about the PUD development that may change your lives. Well so were the residents of Fairway and Sandburg Ridge when we found out our area was re-zoned to include a huge shopping center and high-rise buildings. Many of you people showed up at the meeting and were all in favor of a shopping center and all the rest that went with it. You never gave a thought to our living with noise and traffic day and night plus losing all our privacy because the buildings behind our homes will be six or eight stories high. You're afraid of traffic problems from your PUD development? What do you think we face? What kind of traffic problems do you think will arise from a shopping center? Ever go near Oak-brook on a Sunday afternoon? We stood alone when we were fighting to save our peaceful living conditions.

We also moved from the city to be in clean, open air and nice, quiet suburbia. When we asked our mayor, why here, behind small single family homes when there's so much open land where no one will be affected like we will, we were told someone had to get hurt and we were the ones.

So you'll excuse us but we don't care one way or the other how your fight comes out, because we lost ours.

Besides original ink silhouettes; Bonnie has worked in her husband's and daughters' art works, and an antique hamburger press and evening purse for a display on the dining area wall in the kitchen.

Owners personality reflected in decor

By JEAN WILLE

When you enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Stump, 16828 Willow Lane, your first comment could be the first line of a country-western song, "Hello, walls." Practically every wall in the home is a clever art piece that could stand on its own.

Bonnie Stump is one of those people who can take a little something, add a little something more, and come up with an extremely attractive, meaningful wall arrangement.

According to Bonnie, when she and Steve moved into their home, as with most young couples, they could not afford any expensive extravagant wall decorations. Therefore, Bonnie proceeded to decorate with small family articles that she and other members of the family "just happened to have around." The result is a picturesque history of the Stump family and Bonnie's parents' family.

Included in the "little family things" are quite a few of Bonnie's own creations of original ink-thumb prints, crewel work, ink silhouettes, and a small mirror collection. A charcoal sketch of Steve's is included in a dining area grouping along with paintings by their daughters, Kimberly, 9 years old, and Kathleen, 7 years old.

Bonnie's ink-silhouettes are rapidly becoming a "must" with friends of the Stumps. The pictures are personal sketches incorporating names, birthdates, wedding dates, etc., into historically costumed silhouettes.

With a last name like Stump, Bonnie and Steve have been able to use a table mat, courtesy of Stump's Pub (no relationship) Worth, as a decorative wall additive. Another word-play on the last name serves as a coffee table in the living room. Jerry Hug, a neighbor and friend, brought a Michigan tree stump for use as a coffee table; another friend, Rudy Disabato, finished the glass top, resulting in a "one alone" coffee table.

Bonnie commented that childhood friends often ask, "what I ever did with my art work."

Obviously, she is putting her artistic ability into the creation of a warm, lovely, family home.

A small wall in Kimberly and Kathleen's bedroom has received a youthful touch of femininity.

The Stumps' pet, Jose, finds an ideal location for resting next to the "stump coffee-table."

Original ink-thumb prints are as clever as they are artistic and amusing.

Eagles end season, 14-8 on home field

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg Eagles finished a successful season as they defeated the Bremen Braves, 14-8 in a close battle Saturday on the Eagles' home field.

The Eagles got off to a slow start in the first quarter when quarterback Wally Atkinson threw a interception on the first play of the game. Bremen quickly capitalized on it as Bob Strand rambled 30 yards for an early 6-0 lead for Bremen.

The Eagles were stalled until Rusty Vincent scored from the two-yard line on a fourth down with only seconds left in the half. Steve Nelson added the extra point and the Eagles led 7-6 at the intermission. In the third quarter, the Eagles recovered a Bremen fumble deep in Bremen territory.

Senior quarterback Bill Nelson, who earlier in the game replaced Atkinson, marched the Eagles down to Bremen's one-yard line. Rust Vincent then plunged over to give the Eagles a 13-6 lead. Steve Nelson again added the extra point and Sandburg led 14-6.

Bremen never gave up through as the visitors drove the ball some 70 yards down the field in the fourth quarter to the Eagles' goal line. The Eagle defense rose to the occasion when Bremen had first and goal at Sandburg's three-yard line. The Eagles stopped Bremen on downs on the one inch line.

Sandburg took over but was unable to move so the Eagles were forced to punt from their own goal line. Rather than risking a blocked punt, the Eagles gave the Braves a safety. The Eagles kicked off to Bremen and two plays later had the ball back on a Brave's fumble with only minutes left in the game and won, 14-8.

Coach Cliff Eade singled out Steve Nelson, Bill Hammertree, Earl Hammond and Bruce Mack for their defense. Eagle runner Mike McNicholas was the leading rusher gaining 57 yards in 10 carries. The Eagles gained 159 yards rushing and none in passing. Bremen rushed for 132 yards and passed for 41 yards giving them a slight edge in total yards.

Eade thought the Eagles had a "great season" and was "proud of every individual on the team." "This year's team had a lot to prove and they did just that with a 6-2 final record for the season," commented Coach Eade. Sandburg finished in third place behind Reavis and Homewood-Flossmoor.

Eight straight!

By JAMES PHELAN

TINLEY PARK — The Titans won no. eight in a row 22-8 against a tough Hillcrest football team on Saturday, Nov. 4.

The Titans, which have been virtually ignored by the Chicago papers had their problems with the swift Hillcrest runners, especially Tom Johnson. Hillcrest moved the ball but the overeager defense rose to the occasion every time. The Tinley defense hopped offside eight times through the whole game. But the defense forced Hillcrest into making mistakes which probably forced Hillcrest into losing.

Hillcrest had a punt blocked to set up a td and had four fumbles lost, all of which helped the Titans.

Hillcrest scored first on a 16 yard burst up the middle by fullback Bill Shupryt. A pass to Johnson went in for the conversion and the lead 8-0.

In the second quarter Ed Scott presented the ball to the offense on the Hawk 16. The offense converted on a run by Dan Bulow, but the conversion failed.

At the half Tinley trailed 8-6, but this team just had too much pride and which was driven on by a recent area newspaper article which said that they were not the best in the south suburbs.

Again the defense rose to the occasion by a blocked punt by Charlie Schultz and Rick Zolner, which Bill Frankenberger fell on the three. Bulow did the rest putting it in for the score. This time Ed Neal found Steve Bettenhausen for two points.

Hillcrest was then forced to pass. Every time they went back to pass, there was Schultz, Scott and Terry Caliban back with him.

In the fourth quarter Bulow scored for the third time. Neal converted on a beautiful catch by Charlie Skinulis for a 22-8 lead, and final score.

As the time ran out Hillcrest fans became disgruntled and left. With one more game to go Tinley is 8-0 with a good chance to be the first undefeated squad in Tinley history.

Couple return home for 50th anniversary

TINLEY PARK — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nitsche, former residents of Tinley Park, recently returned from their Florida home to celebrate their 50th anniversary. Over 200 friends and relatives attended the celebration and smorgasbord dinner at the American Legion Hall.

niversary two years ago. Hulda Thomas, a cousin from Dallas, Texas, also attended the affair as well as the Nitsches' two grand-daughters, Mrs. Brue Teemen and Mrs. Houven Manzano, and their families.

Webster presented a brief program on the life and events of Esther and Fred, after which he read letters of congratulations from political figures and friends including President Richard Nixon and Governor Richard Ogilvie.

The staff of the TIMES HERALD would appreciate having news for the Suburban Living section of the newspaper sent to the office by Thursday afternoon of the week preceding publication. If last minute insertions should be necessary, phone calls will certainly be welcome.

Hospitals set testing for diabetes

SOUTHWEST — One person out of every 125 has diabetes and does not know it. One person out of every 20 already has diabetes or will develop it during his lifetime.

This major health problem is the second leading cause of blindness and heart attacks and are at least two and a half times more frequent in diabetics than non-diabetics of the same age. It can contribute either directly or indirectly as the major cause of cardiovascular disease of all types.

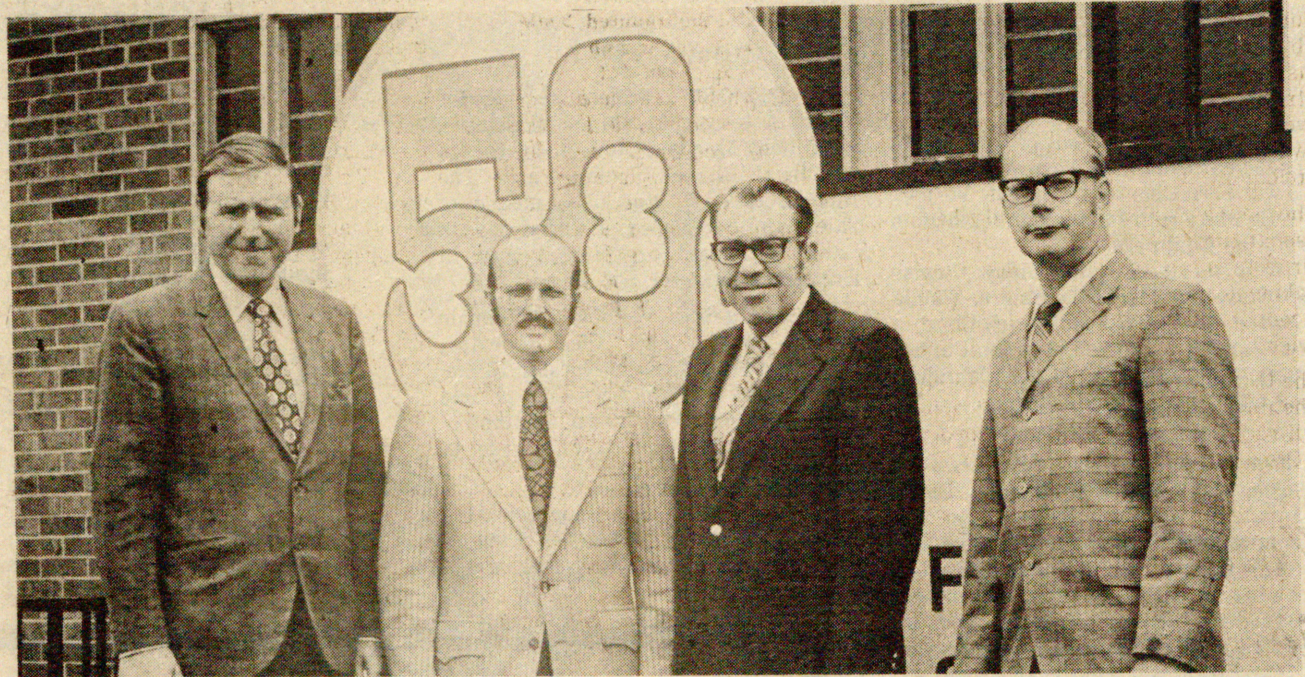

South Suburban Hospital, 178th Street and Kedzie Avenue, Hazel Crest, will offer blood sugar testing during Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 12-18. The tests will be given as a free service to the community by the hospital.

Diabetes Detection Week in this area is under the direction of the Diabetes Association of Great Chicago, a voluntary health organization.

Diabetes is a condition which develops when the body cannot make use of certain foods, especially sugars and starches. The most common symptoms are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, tendency to tire easily, changes in vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches. However, it is possible to have diabetes without any of these symptoms.

Early detection of diabetes means early treatment. Early treatment means better control. Better control means a long, healthier life.

The South Suburban Hospital tests will be given in the Lab Monday, Nov. 13 through Saturday, Nov. 18, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. These tests are not for persons known to have diabetes.

Fund drive sets $5,500 for charity

ORLAND PARK — The 1972 Community Chest drive has reached about 70 percent of its goal of $5,500 at the end of its first month. As a partner in the Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy, the Chest will receive an additional $6,500 from the Crusade if their goal of over $35,000,000 is reached.

If you have not sent in your contribution in response to the mail campaign letter, please do so, in care of Box 31, Orland Park, Ill., 60462.

Russell M. Whitney, campaign chairman, asks that everyone give their fair share, no matter how small. He added, "I am confident that we will reach our goal and would like to see the campaign complete by the middle of November and before the Christmas season arrives." The seven agencies who will receive funding from the Orland Chest are: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Family Service of Southwest Cook County, Homemakers Service, Handycamp for Handicapped Children, U.S.O. and the YMCA.

Thomas Curtin, Orland Park, District Director, Austin YMCA, has been named an Ambassador of Mercy for the 1972 Crusade of Mercy campaign.

Curtin is one of more than 70 Crusade ambassadors, who will carry the Crusade story to the people in metropolitan Chicago. Ambassadors serve as personal communication links between the Crusade and potential contributors.

The ambassadors will spend their personal time and will be allowed by their companies to spend office time speaking to employee groups solicited for contributions to Crusade supported services.

The Crusade is a great unifying force in the metropolitan community. People of all races, colors and creeds support the Crusade and all benefit from it.

Woman's club views 'Hawaii'

TINLEY PARK — Members of the Tinley Park Women's Club will view a travelogue on Hawaii to be presented by Aloha Tourists Agency at the Wednesday, Nov. 15 meeting. The meeting will begin at noon and will be held at Bert Fulton School fieldhouse, located east of Oak Park Avenue on 171st Street.

Mrs. Gerald Crandall, program chairman, has asked members to bring guests to the meeting where gifts will be awarded.

Club members are currently making gifts for war veterans who are patients in area hospitals. The gifts will be presented at Christmas. Mrs. Peter Ellement, chairman of the projects, reported at the October meeting that the items being made are foot cuffs and ditty bags to hold toiletry articles.

Also during the October meeting, a plea for cancelled stamps was made by Mrs. Ellement, chairman of the special project. Stamps should be removed, leaving at least one half inch of the envelope attached.

Members of the Third District Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, which the Tinley Park W man's Club is affiliated, will make their annual visit to the swearing in of new American citizens. Club members serve refreshments to the participants following the ceremony.

In other activities some club members are practicing under the direction of Sue Poe, in preparation for a concert to be presented to patients at the Tinley Park Mental Health Center, Nov. 29.

Co-op features olympic slides

SOUTHWEST — The Southwest Cook County Cooperative Association for Special Education was among the exhibitors at the recent Illinois Council for Exceptional Children convention.

The association was invited by the convention committee to show its audiovisual presentation on the 1972 Special Olympics.

A committee responsible for preparing the display was appointed by Benjamin Braun, director of the Cooperative. The committee included Margaret Hale, EMH-TMH program supervisor; Marty Fox, vocational coordinator at the Prevocational Training Center; and Steve Harada, physical therapist.

Carrying out the Olympic's red, white and blue color scheme and prominently displaying the official flag, the committee prepared an exhibit that commercial exhibitors at the convention complimented for its "professionalism."

In addition to the slides and tape which were shown almost continually, color still pictures of the children in various events were also displayed. All of the medals, certificates and the program of events were available for viewers to study and a brochure describing the Olympics was distributed.

Halloween ghosts linger around

ARCANA CORNER
A Party at the Haunted Castle
by Mary Straub
Copyright 1972

Assorted ghouls and uglies strolled freely — or seemed to float — through the halls and rooms of the "Haunted Castle," a unique limestone structure in Chicago's Beverly area. Substantial looking vampires, wolf-men and various undesirable entities galore danced, drank cider and beer and flirted with pretty dancing girls, gypsies, and kittens with long legs and tails.

If there were any real ghosts wanting to materialize or otherwise scare the living daylight out of their guests, they must have retreated frustrated this Oct. 28 eve, in finding the deed literally impossible. They were temporarily outclassed and outnumbered by Halloween celebrants, who filled the former residence, now the Beverly Unitarian Church, from tower to dungeon, fore and aft for the Beverly Hills-Morgan Park Sesquicentennial Halloween Party.

At other times, The Castle, 10244 S. Longwood Dr., was rumored to be troubled by spirits. Robert C. Givens in 1886 had the home built in imitation of an ivy-covered castle he had visited in Ireland on the River Dee. Limestone was brought from Joliet by horse-wagons; it is said that Givens built the house as a gift to his new bride, who sometime later, disappeared and was not found again.

At present, stories of ghosts and things that go "Boo" in the night are subdued, and the night of the party especially the only hint of anything supra-normal came about through physical agents. Upstairs in one of the lower-like rooms — very likely the window of which some neighborhood children have said candles were burning in when the house was empty — several people were busily engaged as "readers."

In one small room was Dorothy Shields, Oak Forest Astrologer, and two of her Evergreen Park high school astrology teachers, Ella Bird and Linda Hoyne. They worked diligently and long in order to compile charts for astrology buffs who gathered in the haunted corridor waiting to take their turn and find what the planets held in store for them.

In an adjoining room which seemed to be the obvious place for Givens' library or study and which holds a stained glass window with the motto, "Dum Spiro Spero," (While I live I hope) visitors could have their handwriting analyzed or ask questions of the crystal ball. Bernard Choffin, Orland Park graphologist, was amazing people with his skillful character analysis according to their script; said one guest, "I never really liked myself anyhow. Maybe he'll make matters worse."

And in a corner near the windows was Louise Helene, scryist and radio personality, also teaching the art of crystal ball reading at Evergreen High. Some of these experiences proved to be as spooky as any ghost encounter might have been. All the readers donated their time and efforts, the proceeds going to the church.

In The Dungeon was a chamber of horrors that verily chilled the blood. In an elaborate and all too effective "dungeon walk" shrouded in black cloth and black-light accents, confined dummies were secondary to live ghouls that jumped out expectedly at tourists. The dungeon committee headed by Chuck Nelson and his wife, Beverly, thereby proved their sorcerer talents.

Party Chairman, Angelo Buscemi, also an astrologer, beamed, "It's a huge success. People have come from Arlington Heights, Palatine and literally all over the Chicagoland area."

Now about those ghost stories of the past; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schultz, Tinley Park, Ill., in 1962 began their 3 years as caretakers of The Castle. While the building was a church, it's minister was Hunter Leggett.

Said Marlene Schultz, "I was expecting a child at the time, and the first night my husband and I stayed there, it began. We slept on the third floor. During the night I heard people mumbling downstairs, and I thought, 'Oh no. Is this how it's going to be? People coming in and out all night?'"

"Earl heard it too and went down. He found nothing. We were awakened four times during that night by the same mumbling, and thereafter sounds persisted. Our German Shepherd would not leave our bedroom during any evening, but lay with his ears back while he growled."

The couple were not afraid. Often, Marlene would simply shout, "Alright! Go to bed!" and the sounds would cease. Three things stay in Marlene's mind: she couldn't sit along on the second floor, "I always had the feeling that I was being forced to leave there." (This is where the readers sat) She say and spoke to a girl with an Irish brogue who said she once lived there, and who couldn't be found moments later; on the night that Marlene's father died, a vase in the Castle living room burst and broke — at the same instant.

Marlene has some psychic ability and reasoned that she would be especially receptive to any spirits — were there such — that might be frequenting the Castle; so is her husband.

The present caretakers? Said Mrs. Peter Cenbenenue, "No, we haven't had any signs of problems like that."

Robert Schaibly, minister, has remarked, "For many years there have been no new ghost stories. Perhaps they found the building inhospitable, or perhaps they are more quiet and docile now, so no one ever sees them. Myself, I just don't know. I never saw a ghost but I hate to offend a man who says he has; after all, we ought to keep an open mind."

That's exactly what I thought as I strolled the Dungeon Walk. When a fluorescent faced guy in black leaped out behind me I nearly ran over the woman walking in front of me. I turned quickly and he was gone. Even more quickly, so was I!

Community assist educational program

FRANKFORT — Principal Gerald M. Cummings of Frankfort Square School last week discussed the formation of the Instructional Improvement Committee, its purpose, its objectives, its responsibilities and its role in the development and implementation of the school's educational program.

Essentially the committee was organized to allow the community a voice in the planning of the school, and to promote a feeling of unity and active involvement for parents, children and faculty. According to Cummings, the responsibility of education should be a joint venture that includes parental assistance as well as formal training within the school.

"We alone cannot effectively educate the children," he said. "The parents must be an integral part of the entire program." With this in mind, four members of the community were selected to work with Cummings and his staff. Totally, the IIC is comprised of Frankfort Square residents Mrs. Peter Carollo, Mrs. Owen T. Bechtel, Mrs. David Abels and Mrs. William T. Reid; four teachers, Mrs. Stannye Bybee, Mrs. Marcia Hoffman, Mrs. Cathy Klick and Miss Ann Ballance; Principal Cummings and two student representatives, Scott Reid, from the fifth grade, and Leslie Garrigan, from the fourth grade.

The two children were selected by their classmates to contribute ideas from a student's point of view that adults might overlook. Also, it helps the children to realize that their opinions are considered worthwhile, and gives them the opportunity to feel that they, too, are contributing to the planning of the school they will eventually use.

Members of the IIC are committed to the school's future, including drafting a set of objectives and formulating an educational program, as well as to recommend for purchase several types of furniture and materials the building will require. Of primary concern to the group is the educational program.

"We hope to utilize the 'open concept' of learning," Cummings said. "We all agree that a non-graded individualized program is desirable here. What we want to provide is a positive atmosphere that will encourage the children to achieve, to help them recognize the need for continual education, because after all, learning is a life-long thing."

Such a program caters to the needs of each child, with positive emphasis placed on a student's special talents and distinct personality. At the same time, it offers specific, concentrated help in the areas where the child may have learning difficulties.

"Open concept" employs a step-at-a-time method of instruction," Cummings explained. "For example, a child must understand step one of any problem before he can master step two. Some children will grasp step one immediately, others will not.

"The first group begins to feel bored while the teacher repeats the lesson for the benefit of the second group, while the latter can only feel embarrassed and defeated in their efforts." It is felt that since one child can progress faster than another, he should be allowed to do so, while the child having difficulties should be given additional attention and encouragement.

"With the 'open concept' we hope to eliminate the sense of competition and minimize the child's frustrations. Eventually we also will have a different grading system, which will allow each teacher to give the parent an evaluation of his child's progress based on his own capabilities. This

Tree plantings will benefit all

By VIRGINIA SASS

Have you been wondering what to do with that eroded area on your back forty? Do you have a bare pond, cut creek banks, gullied fields, or idle land? Have you wondered where all the birds and wildlife have gone?

The Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District has a solution to overcome these problems - plant trees!

Order blanks and price lists for tree stock from state nurseries for spring of 1973 planting are available now at the District's office, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet.

William Stelter, district chairman, is urging people to get their orders in as soon as possible to avoid disappointment. Both species must be ordered in multiples of 500 with a minimum order of 500. According to state law all stock obtained from state nurseries must be used for the purpose of growing forest products, for establishing new forests or shelterbelts or improving existing forests, or game food cover for control of soil erosion, but not for ornamental, shade tree or landscape purposes. Planting stock obtained or purchased from state nurseries may be cut and sold as Christmas trees and greens, posts, pulpwood, ties, poles, logs and other products but they cannot be removed or resold with the roots attached.

Species available are Ash, Autumn Olive, Bush Honeysuckle, Black Locust, Black Walnut, Dogwood, Lespedeza, Multiflora Rose, Jack Pine, Red Gum, Sycamore, Tulip Poplar, Pin Oak, Red Oak, Red Cedar, Red Pine, White Oak, Cypress, Loblolly, White pine and Scotch Pine.

Five packets may be ordered: Wildlife - 500 plants (100 each of white and red pine, silky dogwood, bush honeysuckle and autumn olive) mixed pine - 100 white and 100 red; special conservation - 25 each of autumn olives, ash pin oak, red cedar and red bud; walnut pack - 100 walnut seedlings, and school packet - 25 each of olive, white, red and pin oak and red bud. Trees will make non-productive land come to life, Woodlands provide homes for wildlife and food and nesting places for birds which eat crop destroying insects.

Trees may be planted in windbreaks which offer many benefits to man. Woodlands conserve moisture and prevent erosion. Woodlands also provide recreation. Christmas tree farming offers an attractive opportunity for extra income.

In addition to aesthetic values trees are effective in reducing noise and also provide a basic requirement for life - oxygen, which is released during their growth process.

The District has a custom tree planting service. Last year 53,000 trees were planted in Will County by the District's tree planter service operated by Loren and Daniel Sass, of Homer Township.

Frankfort to consider home rule

FRANKFORT — The home rule question was tossed into the village board hopper Monday night by Village Attorney August J. Santoro, with the recommendation that the members look into it. This provoked some discussion but there will be a lot more before any action is taken.

Under the new constitution communities with a population over 25,000 automatically qualify for the home rule provision. Smaller municipalities can adopt home rule through referendum, either decision of the governing body or by petition.

Communities without home rule, Santoro explained, are limited by state statute as to ordinances they may adopt. Under home rule, he said, a municipality becomes a complete, political entity, within certain limitations.

Should a referendum be called, it was said, it could be held at the same time as the village election next spring.

Before such a referendum could be considered, Trustee Howard Osmus pointed out, it would be necessary to prepare a brochure, setting forth all the facts, pro and con, so the public would be thoroughly familiar with the subject.

A resolution was adopted by the board on the recommendation of Osmus that, effective immediately, members of the Plan Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals receive compensation of $15 for each meeting attended.

On recommendation of Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen an ordinance was adopted to give the police department authority to regulate installation of burglar alarm systems, as a means of eliminating fly-by night salesmen of such devices.

The ordinance requires that such devices meet certain standards, one of the objectives being the elimination of false alarms, there will be a $20 installation fee, and an annual fee of $60, payable in advance.

The fees will all go to the communication center set up by the police departments of Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox. All such alarms would be connected with the center at New Lenox. After three false alarms there would be a $10 penalty for the fourth and $25 penalty for each additional false alarm.

Approval was given to the recommendation of the zoning board of appeals reclassifying seven pieces of property in the Ludwig parcel off Center Road from R-1 (residential) to I-2 (industrial). A letter from Village Engineer Robert E. Hamilton recommending certain types of small lift stations was turned over to Trustee Wilbert Klier, chairman of the Sewer and Water Committee, for a recommendation at the next board meeting.

Communication from Hamilton dealing with street construction was referred to the plan commission.

Trustee Richard Trevarthan, head of the Public Property Committee, reported that invitations have been extended to every civic organization in the community to express their needs and recommendations as to the uses of, and the remodeling plans for the new municipal building at the southwest corner of Hickory and Kansas streets.

Mayor Warning reported that he, Mayor Will Tuttle of Mokena, and a representative of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission were scheduled to meet Nov. 13 to discuss jurisdictional boundaries for the two villages.

The mayor signed a plat for Unit 1 of Tanglewood Subdivision, but no building permits will be issued until bonds are posted.

The mayor read a letter from Mrs. Ethel Anderson, protesting the boarding in of a carport by Wayne Hossbach, 112 Pacific St. The carport is in non-conforming use and the writer contends that under the zoning ordinance it is forbidden to make alterations.

Village Attorney Santoro said that he had given an opinion that adding sides to the carport was a continuation of a non-conforming use. The carport or garage is within three feet of the side lot line. It is one-car garage and could not be made any smaller, he said. Board members instructed Santoro to look into the matter further and it is slated to be taken up again at the next meeting.

News Briefs

NEW LENOX — The four members of the instructional staff of the Lincoln-Way High School agriculture department will attend the buffet dinner at Joliet Junior College Nov. 8, for all the agriculture teachers in the JJC district.

Max H. Kuster, agriculture department chairman at JJC, said that the dinner is given to express appreciation to the district's high school agriculture teachers for the encouragement they have shown to their students. Also for the contributions they have made to the interest shown in agriculture by present and former Joliet Junior College students.

The dinner will be prepared by Claude Kern, Joliet Junior College's gourmet chef and director of the department of culinary arts.

Members of the Lincoln-Way faculty who will attend are Paul Windish, Roger Ross, Kenneth Jorstad and Ronald Olson.

FRANKFORT — The Frankfort Historical Society is seeking help. It has started digging into the past of current structures and locations and would like to have as much information about them as possible.

The current list of places whose pasts are being probed include the Cooper-Show Ford building at White and Kansas streets, reportedly a former car barn; The Michigan Central properties; the Citizens Bank, now an antique shop; the Frankfort State Bank; the structure now owned by the village at the southwest corner of Kansas and Hickory; the Frankfort Grain Elevator and an elevator that used to stand beside the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern tracks.

The Society would also like pictures of street scenes and buildings, past and present; early modes of travel and the rail stations and freight depots.

The group also is looking for old newspapers, newspaper clippings and advertisements dealing with early times, souvenir yardsticks, calendars and souvenir gifts such as merchants formerly gave good customers.

Anyone who can contribute to the Society's quest is asked to call Mrs. Marie Tewes at 469-5700. There are people who may not have anything of historical interest themselves, it was pointed out, but they know where the society can make inquiries.

NEW LENOX — Beginning Dec. 1 the New Lenox State Bank will again be selling state automobile license plates over the counter, thus eliminating the delay that takes place if one mails his application to Springfield.

Angie Denson and Thomas Tapella, of the banking staff, recently completed the course.

NEW LENOX — Oakview Junior High School, a part of New Lenox District 122, will be the scene of a statewide meeting of school officials Nov. 17, it was announced by Supt. Arnold J. Tyler.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. It is sponsored by the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the Chicago regional office of the United States Office of Education. Its purpose, it was explained, is to inform school administrators of the latest rules, regulations and developments regarding application for impact aid under PL 874 and PL 815 and school disaster aid.

Gordon A. Aaland, program officer from the Chicago Regional Office of Education, will be in charge of the meeting. Also in attendance will be Dr. Fred Bradshaw, from the state superintendent of schools' office, and Jack Fritsch.

The meeting, to be held in the school gymnasium, will be over by 12 noon, so there is no holiday for students. They were off Monday, Nov. 6, because of teachers institute.

MOKENA — Plans for a distribution center in Mokena for the needle company of C.J. Bates & Son, Inc., of Chester, Conn., will be submitted to the village plan commission at its regular meeting tomorrow night Nov. 9.

If approved, and it was believed approval would be given, the plans will then go to the village board at its meeting next Tuesday night. Final approval by the village board will mean that the owners will take immediate steps to get a building permit and have work on the plant started.

Hamilton C. Bates Jr. arrived in Mokena this week to attend to the details to get the new plant started. It will be located on a 20-acre tract on the east side of Schoolhouse Road, about opposite the east end of Third Street.

According to Mayor Will Tuttle and Cadet Cottingham, of the plan commission, who began the negotiations with the Bates company about two years ago, the Mokena branch will be a distribution center for the company's mid-west territory.

Products to be distributed from here, it was said, included knitting needles, crochet hooks, knitting aids, knitting purses, totes and stands.

In full operation the plant is expected to employ nine to 12 persons, it was said. The structure is to be of masonry construction. The company delayed starting the project here until it had completed improvements and expansion of the parent plant in Connecticut. The Bates needle firm will be a century old in 1973.

Pancake treats for winners

FRANKFORT — Winners of the 1972 Fire Prevention Poster Contest were announced this week by the Frankfort Volunteer Fire Department. The posters, created by local school children in kindergarten through fifth grade, were judged by artist Shirlee Witte and Mrs. Ralph Eisenbrandt, of Rahm-brandt interior designs.

First grade winners were John Corp, first prize; Laura Podobnik, second prize and Deborah Ellul, third prize. All are from Chelsea School.

Winners of the second grade competition were Leigh Yurgin, of Arbury Hills School, first place; Albert Mersch, from Chelsea School, second place and Cherie Lyn Bickel, also from Chelsea, third place.

John Cranfile, Chelsea third grader, won first prize in his age group, with Darlene Minter from Ann Rutledge School taking second place and Greg Vander Velde, Chelsea School, in third.

Placing first among the fourth grade competition was Ann Rutledge student Don Cihak. Following in second place was Steven Reed with Philip Van Swel in third place, both from Chelsea school.

First prize in the fifth grade went to Galen Cawley, Chelsea School. Second place was awarded to John Ellis, also from Chelsea.

According to Fireman Ralph

Eisenbrandt, winners will be treated to free pancake breakfasts at the Annual Frankfort Volunteer Fire Department Pancake Breakfast, to be held Sunday, November 12, at the Firehouse. The breakfast, featuring pancakes, eggs, bacon, toast, sausage, coffee and milk, will begin at 6 a.m. and continue until 1 p.m. Tickets, available at the door, cost $1.25 each for adults and 75 cents each for children. Preschoolers will be admitted free.

Fireman Eisenbrandt also noted that Wilbur Klier, dubbed the Guru of the Griddle, will flip the flapjacks.

Proceeds from the affair will help finance the service activities of the Fire Department.

According to sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident, the car was in such a position, that it was difficult for anyone passing along the road to see it. The car crushed and Sangmeister was unable to free himself.

About 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wener, who live nearby, happened to be looking out of a window and saw a pair of automobile wheels sticking up under the end of the bridge over the creek.

Werner wondered if there had been an accident or someone had decided to abandon a car. He went to investigate and found Sangmeister.

According to the accident report Sangmeister was conscious most of the time he was trapped in the car.

NEW LENOX — The New Lenox village board concurred in the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals for the rezoning of the lots owned by Joseph Davies on the south side of U.S. 30, across the street from the Hauck Oil Co. The property was R-1 (residential) and has been reclassified as C-2 and C-3 (commercial). There are four lots involved with a frontage of 161 feet on U.S. 30. The back portions were separated by a strip that had been declared as an alley but never used as such. At the request of Davies this alley was declared vacated and the village will receive the appraised price of $1,750 for it.

press of business.

Arthur, who has been a resident of the community for 10 years, has never held nor been a candidate for public office. He is employed by the Natural Gas Pipeline Co., as superintendent of storage, and it was agreed that his experience and knowledge would be a valuable asset to the board.

Mayor Glenn Warning recommended Arthur's appointment to the board and the recommendation was unanimously approved. Arthur was immediately sworn in by the mayor and took part in the remainder of the proceedings.

He will take over the committee posts held by Stupp, chief of which is chairman of the police committee, or police commissioner. His appointment will run until the village election next year, when, if he chooses, he may become a candidate for the unexpired term.

GREEN GARDEN — Trapped in a wrecked car beneath a bridge for 36 hours, Roy Sangmeister, 27, of Green Garden, is under treatment in the intensive car section of Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet. His condition is listed as serious, according to a hospital spokesman.

Sangmeister, according to the report at the sheriff's office, was enroute home early Saturday morning when he lost control of his car. The right front wheel ran off the pavement and when the driver turned the steering wheel to get back on, the tire apparently encountered an obstacle and the car when plunging down the bank of Forked Creek, end over end, winding up on its top, underneath the bridge.

Sangmeister was traveling south on Center Road and the accident took place about a mile and three quarters south of the Manahattan-Monee blacktop road.

Sophs win

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg sophomore football team finished their season on a happy note last Saturday, by defeating Bremen 7-0. Tim Frangella of the Eagles scored the winning and only touchdown when he ran six yards for a score.

The Eagles defense lead by Mike Stuart, Brain Padgett, Tom Hammond and Mark Sobel not only played another fine game, but had the best defense in the conference. The Eagle defense limited their opponents to 40 points scored in eight games.

The Eagles final record for 1972 was 6-2. The Eagles were coached by Tom Seliga, Paul Gilliland and Bob Mazzone.

Youth basketball

ORLAND PARK — It's almost time again for Orland Youth Association basketball to begin for boys in grades third through sixth.

The league has 12 teams, six for third and fourth graders and six teams for fifth and sixth graders. Each team will be in a six-team division and will play each other twice making 24 total games played.

The third and fourth graders will start their games this Saturday morning at Orland Center School on 151st Street. All of the OYA teams are locally sponsored.

A dream, hard work and cooperation: Price

By Tim Lumley

Nearly eight years ago a man named Bob Price came to Orland Park to coach and start an organized football program. Bob Price, formerly a coach in the Continental Football League for semi-pro teams, had a dream.

In 1964, Coach Price took 26 unorganized boys which was 0-4 at the time to four straight victories before their season ended. Coach Price kept building his football program with players and coaches year after year. By 1966, he won a championship with a 8-1 record. In 1968, he had a 7-1 record just losing a championship game, 7-0.

To go along with his varsity team in 1969, Price decided to organize a youth program with a widget team for younger boys. Coach Price also wanted the team to be self-supporting so any boy could play football. Brent Green, Steve Nelson and Ron Weiland helped Price organize this program.

The Widget football team was a good idea because in 1970 St. Michael's widget team was the undefeated champion. Dan McGrath, John Depasa and John Bagdon coached that team.

Things kept on growing, and in 1971 when Bob Milder, Brent Green and Coach Price combined forces they got their own football field right in the back yard of St. Michael's school.

The field was named for the Wildcat Athletic Club team which was self-supporting but sponsored by St. Michaels Church. That year the Wildcat football program included three teams, the widgets, junior varsity team and the varsity.

More than 100 boys were involved with these three teams. There were also 11 coaches, two trainers and two equipment managers plus a field maintenance crew headed by Bob McArthur, Jim Demont and Jim Casey.

The varsity team had three coaches: Bob Price, head coach and football director, Dan McGrath as line coach, and Bill Barker, back coach. The junior team was well named with Bob Price, Jr., as the head coach. The Widgets were headed up by Chuck Willeford with four fine assistants.

With all this help the Wildcats went on to win a championship that year with a 6-1 record. It was the same story this year, 1972, as these same men and others helped the Wildcats to go undefeated with a 9-0 record and perhaps a city championship.

Coach Price has not only won championships but has coached boys on his teams to later star at Carl Sandburg and other high schools.

Asking Coach Price on how well the community has responded to his football program, he commented, "The response has been great. I couldn't have made my program a success without them." Coach Price then added that there are many others not mentioned here "who have contributed tremendously."

Frank Revord, vice president of operations; Ray Koeler, vice president of administration and activities and, of course, Brent Green, chairman of all Wildcat activities have all donated many hours to "making the Wildcat football program one of the best football programs in the area," according to Coach Price. Take a man with a dream, add a lot of hard work, cooperation and help from many people and you have a record of 53-23-2 with three championships in less than seven years.

Knights, Vikings end perfect seasons

NEW LENOX — As the curtain fell on Southwest Suburban Conference football Saturday, both the Knights of Lincoln-Way High School and the Vikings of Homewood-Flossmoor High School finished the season with perfect records.

Saturday's action between the two schools left the Knights with no wins for the season and the Vikings with no losses, as Homewood-Flossmoor rolled over Lincoln-Way 34-0.

Entering the competition, Homewood had been rated the fourth best team in the state; Saturday's competition certified the rating.

Mike Calhoun brought in the first Homewood touchdown with an 86 yard punt return in the first period. Senior Gary Tokarski piloted the successful conversion kick to bring in a first period score of 7-0 for the Vikings.

The second period saw Mike Schultz bring in another Homewood touchdown on a 12 yard run. Eight minutes later Mike Gagan took a one yard run to set the score 19-0 for the Vikings.

Vikings' quarterback Brian Tekotte took the ball on a 42 yard run to up the score to 25-0 early in the third quarter.

A successful conversion run by Reid Bauman upped the score by two.

In the final period, halfback J.D. Winkler took a 24 yard pass from substitute quarterback Bill McBain to score again for the Vikings. A conversion kick by Tokarski closed the game with a Viking total of 34.

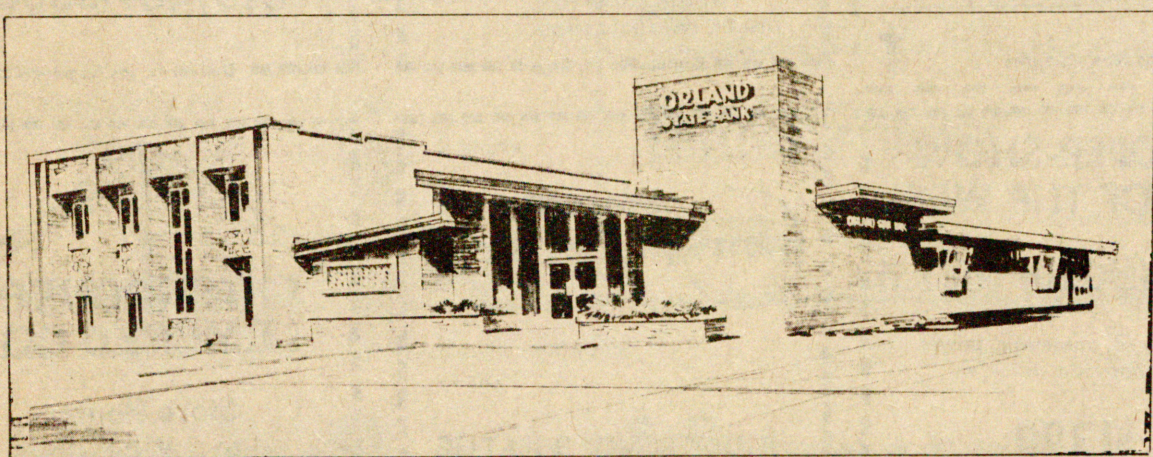

The afternoon's event marked the third consecutive game in which the Knights have been scoreless.

Flag football playoffs begin

OAK FOREST — The regular season for Oak Forest Athletic Association flag football is over and the play-offs have started.

Maurer 34—Raiders 0

On Sunday, Nov. 5, in the first play-off game at Gingerwood Park, the Maurer Construction Colts rolled over the Fieldcrest Raiders 34-0. The first touchdown came at 10 minutes of the first quarter when Colt Rod Humpal made a 25-yard end run pay off.

On the opening play of the second quarter, Colt Bob Jones tallied with a 22-yard end run. Then 10 minutes later Colt Humpal scored his second touchdown on a four-yard up the middle. At 12 minutes of the third quarter Humpal again scored the final points of the game with a two point conversion for the 34-0 victory.

Spicer 28—Trustees 12

In the second game at Gingerwood the Spicer Realtors kept their championship hopes alive by beating the Oak Forest Trustees 28-12. The Spicer Chiefs were the first to score when Ken Kubacki took a kickoff back 50 yards for a touchdown at six minutes of the first quarter. Then the Chiefs tallied again on the last play of the second quarter when Len Kubacki rammed in from the one yard line on a slant play. Chief Don Roberts scored the conversion.

The defenses of both teams was superb as play after play was broken up by the other. At four minutes of the third quarter Chief Bob Frey ran a 22-yard end pay off for a touchdown. But six minutes later the Vikings got on the scoreboard when Mark Van Dommelon ran 15 yards up the middle on a fake handoff play. At three minutes of the fourth quarter the Vikings had their

Gymnastics

COUNTRY CLUB HILLS — Students from Tinley Park High School participated in a Girls Gymnastic meet Nov. 1 at Hillcrest High School.

In the vaulting division the Tinley Park team winners were: Peggy Beninger, first; Teri Engel, second; and Barb Prince, third.

Teri Engel took first place in the uneven parallel bars competition. Hillcrest High School took second and third place.

Sharon Allen took first place in the floor exercises division and Heidi Mager took second.

Teri Engel received special recognition for all phases of the competition scoring 7.79 points out of a possible 10.

All together

ORLAND PARK — After dropping three in a row the Carl Sandburg freshmen "A" team finally put it all together beating the Bremen Braves 12-6 last Saturday.

In the closing minutes of the game the Eagles started a down field drive and scored a touchdown in the air to win. This was the last game of the season, leaving the Eagles with an overall record of 5 wins, 3 losses.

The "B" team played only one quarter against Bremen with neither team scoring for a draw.

Wildcats smash St. Stevens

ORLAND PARK — It was a great day for any St. Michael Wildcat fans last Sunday as the Wildcats smashed St. Stevens, 34-0.

The Wildcats not only lifted their undefeated record to 7-0, but won the CYO championship for the second year in a row.

Billy Lyons of the Wildcats had an outstanding day, rushing for 150 yards and scoring five touchdowns. One of those touchdowns coming on a 32 yard pass from quarterback Pat Nelson. Wildcat Tim Roth also had a good game gaining 75 tough yards.

With another shut-out the Wildcats defense have only given up seven points to their opponents in seven league games and two practice games where-as the Wildcats have scored 253 points in nine games.

The Wildcats season is far from over as they will meet a well coached St. Edmunds football team in the Sectional Invitational next Sunday. Coach Price said St. Edmund is a fine team and will be tough to beat. If the Wildcats win this game they will play for the city championship Nov. 19.

backs against the goal line and were forced to kick. The kick went to Len Kubacki who returned it 32 yards for a touchdown. Don Roberts followed with his second conversion.

At eight minutes of the fourth quarter Viking Mike Austin took a five yard screen pass for the final score of the game.

Over the season all the players have improved but one player seems to stand out especially for his kicking ability and he is Viking Pat Cary. By the time he gets to high school, Oak Forest should have a good punter and place kicker to help the Bengals to many victories.

Forty-Niners 44—Rams 18

In Fieldcrest Park the first game showed the 49er's scoring over the Rams 44-18. The Royal Chrysler-Plymouth Rams were the first to score when Ram Mike Breeze ran an end run for a touchdown. The 49ers Peter King came back a few minutes later with a tally followed by a two point conversion by 49ers Dave Biscan.

In the second quarter Royal Ram Grover Goetz on a sweep ran in to put the Rams ahead again 12-8. But before the first half ended 49er Jeff Weber scampered down the turf to end the half with the 49ers ahead 14-12.

In the second half the 49ers broke it open with two more touchdowns by Jeff Weber and one conversion and one touchdown for Dale Reams and two point conversions made by 49er's Biscan and Mike Windhorst. Royal Rams Mike Breeze tallied again late in the game but the game ended 49ers 44, Rams 18.

Packers 42—Bears 24

The second game at Fieldcrest Park was a real barnburner as Chet and Lucy's Bears got on the scoreboard first with a long pass play to Kenny Kulp. Then Medema Builders Packer Mike Janicek tied the score on an end run. The Bears came back to Kulp again with another long pass play that paid off for six points. Before the half Packer Janicek tallied for his second touchdown to end the half 12-12.

In the third quarter Packer Doug Kurecki scored two touchdowns. The Bear's Kulp got the Bears within striking distance with his third touchdown, but then Packer Casey Griffin took a punt return in for a tally. Packer Doug Kurecki five minutes later scored his third touchdown.

The Bears Kulp scored an unprecedented fourth touchdown which helped keep the game close. Packer Janicek put the game out of reach for the Bears when late in the fourth quarter he intercepted a Bear pass and ran 50 yards for the final score of the game. Final score was Packers 42, Bears 24.

So now the stage is set. Next Sunday, Nov. 12, at "high noon" the Fieldcrest 49er's, 7-0, will meet the Maurer Construction Colts 5-2, for the junior championship, at Fieldcrest Park. At 2 p.m. the Spicer Realtors Chiefs, 6-2, will meet the Medema Builder Packers, 6-2, at Gingerwood Park for the senior championship.

The Gingerwood pon pon squad will have a special surprise drill routine that they will perform at Fieldcrest Park between halves of the junior championship game.

GLADYS JARDINE who passed away 1 year ago, Nov. 13, 1971. I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead—she is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there. And you—O you, who the wildest yearn For the old time step and glad return, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here; Think of her still as the same, I say: She is not dead—she is just away!
